BAR ASSOCIATION REFUSES TO EXPELL HAWAII ATTORNEY IN SPITE OF DAMAGING TESTIMONY GIVEN IN REPORT

"He declared to the officers of the law in his five-minute letter that he had forgotten the record. It was a deliberate act. No headman seeking the life of these men could have been more deliberate."—Statement by Attorney W. A. Kinney.

In spite of the statement made before the bar Association yesterday afternoon to the effect that he was not after the scalp of Carl S. Smith, the Hilo Attorney, he proceeded in every way to grill that gentleman and to make such statements as that "No headman seeking the life of these men could have been more deliberate."

Notwithstanding this, however, the Bar Association adopted the majority report, signed by Antonio Perry and W. L. Stanley, with an amendment to the effect that no further action be taken.

F. E. Thompson moved that the report of the committee be adopted and the recommendations carried out. This brought Mr. Kinney to his feet with the following motion and resolution:

"Resolved, That the report of the committee be accepted and placed on file; and
"Resolved, That the action of Carl S. Smith, under investigation by the committee, shows that he has been guilty of professional misconduct, and that his own depositions show that he has been guilty of grave negligence of duty towards his clients."

Mr. Kinney said in part: "The vital thing that this Association is called upon to do is to declare its conviction upon certain issues raised in this report. The Association must call a spade a spade. Kindly motives dictated the recommendations in that report, when they said that he must have written that letter with his eyes shut. I don't want to vote upon this particular part of the report. I may be charitable enough not to want to record my vote upon this point."

"We don't want to stultify ourselves or occupy a position that a layman can riddle to pieces, and they can riddle this matter as it stands until we haven't a leg to stand upon."

"In so far as the report discloses negligence to his clients, then I believe we have a right to go into that. We have gone to the limit of indulgence if we merely declare that he was guilty of unprofessional conduct. He was guilty of gross negligence to his clients."

"Mr. Smith nailed the coffin lid down when he made his declaration to Mr. Milverton, as if he had been their enemy and not their attorney. He disposed of that letter in five minutes, and when the last fight was being made for them by one lone parson and he wrote that letter I don't believe there is any one here would say that he acted unwisely."

The motion of Thompson was finally put and passed.

About twelve members of the editorial association will remain here two weeks longer and the secretary of the association comes out with the bold statement that if the association should extend its visit another week that Mr. Wood and Mr. McCandless would hold at least twenty-five members of the party for another month.

WOMEN'S CLUBS

Clubs are trumps in Honolulu and she seems to hold a full hand. Of women's clubs there are many—social, musical, religious, philanthropic. Without time to study their work or personnel and with only the knowledge that a very hurried glance can give an impression is that the philanthropic spirit predominates in the club life rather than the social or literary features.

Prominent among the clubs is the College Club, which is a complement to the men's University Club, and stimulates women's interest in a college career for women, holds musical and literary meetings, and once a year gives a large reception for the senior girls of the various educational institutions here. There is a musical club which is made up of some of the prominent women and holds many delightful affairs of musical nature. The Hawaiian Women's Club is another of influence. One of the most exclusive organizations is the Daughters of Hawaii, to whose membership only Hawaiians or American women born in the Islands are eligible. This club is of a patriotic nature, striving to preserve the traditions and customs of the Islands, and is of the same historic interest as the Landmarks Club of Southern California. It stands for the best of that spirit of Hawaii which means so much to the Islands and their people.

There are three women's riding clubs, the Maile Ahi, the Pau Riders and one not yet named; the Kaimali Riding Club, a French Club, a Japanese Women's Club and a Chinese Women's Club; there are a cooking school club, several bridge clubs, many gymnasium clubs; a Colonial club, embracing women who trace colonial descent.

The Kindergarten Association is one of the strongest organization and the Flower Mission Club is also doing an excellent work. The Woman's Exchange does a large and a much-needed work; there are social, missionary and industrial societies connected with all of the churches; the W. C. T. U., and the Y. W. C. A., are doing good work of great scope in the Islands, and there is a large church guild connected with the English church, of which former Queen Liliuokalani is a resident.

The Roman Catholic women have a philanthropic society which does a vast amount of good; the Hawaiian Patriotic League is a native society of prominence; there are the various societies such as the Eastern Star, Rathbone Sisters, the Camoes and Rebekahs, and others.

The Women's Industrial Home Association is doing a most important work, and there is a chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution here as well.

The same spirit of mutual helpfulness and mutual interest which binds together the women of the States is to be found here among natives, Americans and Europeans alike, and every woman seems to be stretching out a helping hand to some other sister who needs the special service which she can give. There lies in the hearts of some progressive women a hope and an intention of a central women's club, a federation of clubs in which the various women's organizations may be crystallized and concentrated and the best drawn from each into a strong, potent essence which shall become a power of incalculable importance to the future of these Islands.

Wm. Williamson, of Thiesien & Williamson, returned yesterday from a tour of inspection made over the lands of the Hawaiian-American Rubber Plantation at Naliuku, Maui. He found the crop ahead of all estimates and brought back a large number of fine photos and also samples of rubber.

Dr. J. Uchida, who has just completed the arrangements of his new office on Nuuanu street, has issued invitations to his medical and society friends to a house-warming dinner to be held at a Japanese hotel on Vineyard street near River. The occasion will take place tomorrow night and about 100 guests are expected. Besides speechmaking there will be geisha girls to entertain the guests.
